

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

GPAMMATEION publishes articles on Ancient Greek Epigraphy, Topography and History in the following languages: Modern Greek, English, French, German and Italian.

Submitted articles must reflect original scholarly work pursued by the author and not work that has been published elsewhere.

Papers must be submitted electronically by email to GPAMMATEION in UNICODE font. Pictures and maps included in the papers are to be emailed in jpg or tif format. Pictures must be accompanied by captions.

Authors are strongly encouraged to include also summaries of their papers, preferably in English.

KEY WORDS: Each author is encouraged to suggest key words so that their article can be searched in the internet.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL REFERENCES. Non standard abbreviations used by the author should be listed at the beginning or the end of the submitted article.

The form of the bibliographical references that should be followed is the one that Greek Epigraphic Society uses in its publications:

For a monograph references must include:

author's name, title of the monograph in italics, the place of the publication, the publication year, the number of the relevant pages, plates or figures. See for example:

Carol L. Lawton, Attic Document Reliefs: Art and Politics in Ancient Athens, Oxford 1995, 124, no 89, pl. 47.

When a monograph is published as a supplement to a journal then the title of both the monograph and the journal should be in italics. See for example:

J. S. Traill, The Political Organization of Attica, Hesperia Suppl. 14 (1975) 35-55.

For a book which comprises papers edited by particular editor(s) reference should be made as follows: author, title of the paper, in (the name(s) of the editor(s)), the title of the book in italics place and year of publication, pages, plates or figures. See for example:

M. J. Osborne, Philinos and the Athenian Archons of the 250s B.C., in Pernill Flensted-Jensen, T. H. Nielsen, L. Rubinstein (eds.), Polis and Politics. Studies in Ancient Greek History. Presented to Mogens Herman Hansen on his Sixtieth Birthday, August 20, 2000, Copenhagen 2000, 507-520.

For a paper published in a Journal or in a Journal's supplement:

author's name, the title of the paper, the Journal's title in italics, number of the volume, year of publication in parenthesis, numbers of pages, plates or figures. See for example:

K. Clinton, The Ephebes of Kekropis of 333/2 at Eleusis, AE 127 (1988) [1991] 19-30.

The author's first name –must be given in full for women, for example:

Diane Harris, The Treasures of the Parthenon and Erechtheion, Oxford 1995.

For the reader's convenience, for papers submitted to ΓΡΑΜΜΑΤΕΙΟΝ which are not written in Modern Greek, the names of the Greek authors of books or articles and of the place of publication must be transcribed into the language of the article, for example:

I. Travlos, Πολεοδομική εξέλιξις τῶν Ἀθηνῶν, Athens 1960. [English].

I. Travlos, Πολεοδομική εξέλιξις τῶν Ἀθηνῶν, Athènes 1960. [French].

S. N. Koumanoudes, Θησέως σηκός, AE 1976 [1977] 194-216.

Numbers of the volumes of the Journals and the Journals' supplements must be written in Arabic numerals, for example: Hesperia 53, SEG 25, 178.

ABBREVIATIONS: Abbreviations of international Journals should conform to those of the Archäologische Bibliographie or the Année Philologique. Abbreviations of reference books or series, for example IG, SEG, LGPN (A Lexicon of Greek Personal Names, Oxford 1987-), Jeffery, LSAG (Lillian H. Jeffery, The Local Scripts of Archaic Greece, Oxford 1961), must be written in italic. References to ancient authors and works should be written according to the conventions of the Oxford Classical Dictionary, for example: Ar. Nub. 530, Plut. Vit. Demetr. 11.4, Thuc. 8,24.4. References to the inscriptions are given in the following way: IG I³ 68.12-14.
